WASHINGTON, June 23 .- The conference report on the Dependent Pension bill was taken up by the Senate and Mr.

He believed that under the operation of the pending measure the annual pension roll would be $200,000,000, and the cry would still be for more. And yet no Northern Senator or Representative and as to unthoughtful and unwise legislation in the matter of revenue.

Mr. Davis, Chairman of the Committee on Pensions, said Mr. Berry had consistently opposed legislation for the benefit of Union soldiers. He denied the correctness of the figures given and said it was a disability bill pure and simple. He thought the Senate should fulfill the promises made to the men who had saved their country.

Mr. Ingalis advocated the conference report. This was a sacred obligation and he did not believe the Senate, or the Senator from Maryland, would care to take the attitude of haggling over it.

pensions. He did not care whether it cert $100,000,000 or $1,000,000,000.

Mr. Teller declared that no disbursements of the government met with more universal favor and approval than the paying of pensions.

Mr. Vest spoke of the monstrons abuses that had grown up under the pension bill which was being pressed for personal and political motives. He asserted that the pension list was unduly swollen in the State of Indiana, because it was a pivotal State.

Mr. Turple said that he had not heard of any charges in Indiana against the administration of the Pension Bureau.

Mr. Hawley expressed the hope that the soldiers would not get the idea from what had been said to-day that the Senate was favorable to the payment of arrears of pensions or to the equalization of bounties, or to the payment of the difference between paner paner approach. ference between paper money and d. He thought that altogether too much was said about what the Nation owed to its soldiers. The Union solowed to its soldiers. The Union soldier would be very sorry and ashamed to be called upon to say how much the Nation owed him in dollars. The prominent feeling in his State was that the needy soldier should not suffer, but that nothing should be wested on a man who did not need a pension for his support. The true soldiers of the republic did not want to have money wasted. Finally the discussion closed and the vote was taken. The conference report was agreed to—yeas 34, nays 18, as follows:

Senator McNaughton said that the committee had no business to inquire into Mr. Croker's trusteeship of the money given by Mr. Grant to Flossie Croker. There was nothing to be got at in that line of examination. If Mr. Croker did not invest the money by in that line of examination. If Mr. Croker did not invest the money judiciously then he was responsible to Mr. Grant who gave the money to his daughter. At this reply to Mr. Ivins the Tammanyites applauded vigorously. It was at the request of Mr. McCann that Mr. Croker had a talk with Mr. Adams. It was for the purpose of making some business arrangements with Adams in the interest of McCann. "Has any other public official than Mr. Grantever made a present of money to your daughter?"

Mr. Croker declared that "No, sir." Mr. Groker declared that no tax was levied on any officeholder for election purposes. The expenses, however, in the various districts were very heavy. Mr. Croker did not know what contributions had been made by Judge Bookstaver, Mayor Grant, Mayor Hewitt and other candidates.

Mr. Cockran declared the queries put to Mr. Croker were insulting.

It will be regarded as a public calamity if the award of the Commissioners does if the award of the Commissioners does away with the projected double track steel bridge over Wheeling creek and the elegant modern union station at Market street, but under the circumstances of course the Terminal Company, cannot be criticised for its decision. Nor has any suggestion been heard that seems to offer any other solution of the difficulty than that arrived at by the Company.

Cochran has written a letter to the Baltimore & Ohio company on the subject of continuing the straightening of Caldwell's run to the river. The city has contracted to have it straightened to the alley west of Chapting street. Judget Cochran proposed to the Baltimore & Ohio company, if the latter would continue the work under its tracks at once, that the Terminal company will pay a part of the cost, furnish material for a solid embankment and build the embankment where the old bridge now is. This would very much improve the property on both sides of the new channel.
